The law views usage of these copyright materials as if you are a legal representative or agent of the company. This also holds you legally liable for any claims made against the company. If you're not sure, please ask us to review any materials you want to use first.
- Do Not use the Health Dynamics, Joffs Enterprises, Shine with Light or LumiCeuticals name or logo on any website or marketing materials unless it is marketing material that that we have provided after August 1st, 2016. Make sure you are using the most up to date materials we provide to our Ambassadors.
- DO NOT use the Health Dynamics, Shine With Light or LumiCeuticals name in any social media internet network accounts (IE. Facebook, Twitter, Linked-In, etc)
- Do Not display any Shine With Light or LumiCeuticals software protocols or individual treatment program names anywhere on your website or promotional materials (IE. Balance Hormone Production, etc.) as this can be construed to be treating medical conditions by the FDA.
- LumiCeuticals pads with infrared light have FDA clearance for Pain is as follows: intended for the relaxation of muscles and relief of muscle spasms; temporary relief of minor muscle and joint aches, pains and stiffness; temporary relief of minor pain and stiffness associated with arthritis; and to temporarily increase local blood flow. Ambassadors can only speak of LumiCeuticals temporary pain relief and circulation increase in regards to FDA clearance. Otherwise it is perceived that everything you state in your collateral is FDA cleared which it is not.

- Please DO NOT make any other unauthorized medical claims for the light products. These include claims that purport to “relieve” “improve” or “cure” any physical and/or medical condition. Instead, we suggest always using terms such as “helps promote,” “may improve” and “supports healing” “studies have shown” which are not absolute in nature.
- If you are promoting the light systems we market on your website please display the disclaimer somewhere. “Our Light Systems are not intended to be used as a medical device and is not intended to treat, diagnose, or cure any physical and/or emotional symptoms or medical conditions.”

We thank you for your help and cooperation in safeguarding our light system technology.
